The mod was published with the following description: Libya. After the Arab Spring, Libya became a very anarchic and chaotic state. Most of the army of Libya are either in the hands of the UN or cooperating with them. Recently, the government of Libya receives a lot of help from the other Arab nations. So the Libya in 2011 is not only a traditional Arab Nation, but a dictatorship country as well. That means that the authority in Libya is divided into two parts. The army of Libya is controlled by the Libyan government, which is led by the Libyan Council of Representatives. Then the Libyan government is controlled by the Interim Government of Libya. This Interim government is made of the UN, the army of Libya and the rebels which are supported by the other Arab countries. The army of Libya has a non-armed rebel, called the National Liberation Army (NLA). Their main purpose is to defend the Libyan citizens in their own towns. Besides the two councils, there is a third authority in Libya. This authority is a democratic authority called the National Transitional Council (NTC). This authority is working in a transition from dictatorship to a form of democratic government. This council is considered as an interim council because this council is only one year old. The NTC is made of the people who live in the northern part of Libya. Then the NTC is made of only one person, Mustafa el-Jebali. The NTC is not very strong, but their purpose is to lead the Libyan people to a free and democratic state. This means that they are very hardworking and they are doing everything possible to make this happen. As I was saying, Libya is now a dictatorship country. The NTC has a small Army to defend its people. The Army of Libya is a non-armed rebel group called the National Liberation Army (NLA). Their main purpose is to defend the Libyan people in their towns. But their main purpose is to give help to the NTC. The NLA is also part of the NTC. Besides the NTC, the UN is also playing an important role in Libya. The UN has the authority to send their soldiers in Libya to help the NTC. The main task of these UN soldiers is to defend the towns in Libya and to give help to the people in the NLA. Another important aspect of Libya is the relations between the Arab nations. This is because Libya is located in the middle of the Arabic countries. Libya is located in the middle of the Middle-East and Africa 82157476af
