HARD..... but its what all bullet hell games are so..... I'm just suck XD, this game is alright, not bad, would recommend to normal people but not people who like to rage quit all the time :T. For two bucks I got almost 10 hours out of it. How could I give it anything other than a thumbs up?. Absolute♥♥♥♥♥♥. Fatty Bear is quite possibly the greatest MOBA/Point and Pinch/Psychological Horror game on the market right now. I recommend this game if you are coming from a game that requires serious mechanical aim like GMOD and Wild Animal Racing. It's quite hard to play the bowling mini game without any mechanical aim naturally because of the spray patterns of the ball. Also the cake baking is a little touch when you can't hit your shots. Please keep in mind this is one scary game. The dog monster you unleash and have to contain has a few jump scares. Like when he comes out of the box, so children and special needs people beware!!! It's pretty spooky. The Moba characters in it are pretty balanced, except for mom and dad, they are over powered pieces of♥♥♥♥♥♥(Humongous Ent. nerf please). The community could be less toxic as well, they yell things at me when I am trying to find all of the letters.. Fun little game. wish there was controller support i love this game. i watched markiplier play it. the only complaint i have is that my mouse doesnt have a left click, so i cant even get past the first part of the game because it requires you to turn your flashlight on before you can move.. Looks really fun so far!. they said it was short it was but it was a good game gg (worth it when on sale). Well polished. Playing it on keyboard is insane but fun! I wonder how an online multiplayer could work for it.. Having playing this online. I thought I would buy the full version and its a simple game to play. You have to build a roman path within a time limite to open up the next level. But also you have to do tasks such as feed your workers, gather wood to build the path and bridges as well as fulfil side tasks to fulfil the requirements of the level. The game is easy at first that is intentional to get you settled into playing the game. Then it becomes more challenging as you unlock harder levels in the game. Worth a try if you like those kind of games.. Sorry, but I will have to give this a thumbs down for now. I will keep playing and if the points below gets improved, I will change it for sure, cause it has potential.

After playing some rogue like games, this one is still a lot unpolished for the time of development. I played single player and coop with friends.

- The game mechanics as an FPS is not smooth, you will feel when you play. Movement is very clunky and the character looks like it has some weight in its gear. Even getting the upgrades during some levels, it is strange.
- Enemies at first looks nice, but their movement is really bad... I mean, bad. Change their behavior and movement and I am sure it will be nice.
- Opening doors, chests, etc, is painful to watch. Because, again, character looks all clunky.
- Weapons shooting is also not nice, you can see enemies getting hit in a delayed way, also their movement and attacks (even in SP).
- There are a few more minor points...

Devs, I am sure you put some love in the game, the above I believe it is the basic of FPS games, for movement and some action. If you fix this, I believe it will improve a lot. I know it has bugs on SP and MP, that's why I am not considering these here. My points are the basic of any first person shooter.. I love everything about this game. The level up system, the story, the game mechanics. This game is awesome. You should really try it if you haven't already.. Worst discord mod ever ---> Bad community. Literally the community will ruin your gaming experience. Some how people can't accept the fact that I beat one of the highest rank player ONCE. And I specifcly said once but, I guess it's too much for them to take. IDK what's the big deal about it.. This was scary as ♥♥♥♥. The small amount of light in front of you and requiring you to walk into the unknown is beyond scary. I don't love jumpscare since they're cheap but for free this is worth a playthrough. Just be warned, you will probably scream at a couple parts.. Season Match

Rating: 6/10

Nice clear graphics, good audio quality, 'just one more'.
Good click training for Diablo 3.
